SUNDAY REFLECTIONS

Today, we consider the parable of the sower. It has a special force and charm because it is the word of the Lord Jesus Himself. The message is clear: God is generous in sowing, but the realization of the fruits of His sowing also depends — at the same time — on our free correspondence. That the fruit depends on the ground where it falls is something that everyday experience confirms to us. For example, among students from the same class, some end up with a religious vocation and others as atheists. They have received the same instruction, but the seed fell on different ground. The good ground is our heart. In part, being rich soil is a matter of nature; but more importantly, being rich soil depends on our will. Thus, on the one hand, there are people who pursue empty pleasure over virtue. In them, the parable is fulfilled: the weeds (that is, the worries of the world and the seduction of wealth) “choke the word and it bears no fruit.” (Mt 13:22)

On the other hand, there are those who seek to follow Christ and lovingly welcome the seed of God and make it bear fruit —even if they have to mortify themselves to do so. Christ already said it: “Amen, amen, I say to you, unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains just a grain of wheat; but if it dies, it produces much fruit.” (Jn 12:24) The Lord also warned us that the path to salvation is narrow and constricted (cf. Mt 7:14): what is of great value, costs a lot. Nothing of value is achieved without effort. Those who let themselves be led by their appetites will have a heart like a wild jungle. On the contrary, pruned fruit trees bear better fruit. Thus, holy people have not had an easy life, but they have been models for humanity. “Not all of us are called to martyrdom, certainly, but we are called to achieve Christian perfection. But virtue requires a strength that... demands long and very diligent work, and we should never interrupt, until death. So, this can be termed as a slow and continued martyrdom.” (Pius XII)

SŁOWO NA NIEDZIELE

Dzisiaj rozważamy przypowieść o siewcy. Ma specjalną siłę i urok, ponieważ jest to słowo samego Pana Jezusa.

Przesłanie jest jasne: Bóg jest hojny siewcą, ale owoce Jego siewu zależą również — i równocześnie — od naszego wolnego odbioru.

Że owoc zależy od ziemi na jaką spada potwierdza nam codzienne doświadczenie. Na przykład, wśród uczniów w tej samej szkole i tej samej klasie, jedni kończą z powołaniem i inni jako ateści. Słyszeli to samo, ale ziarno spadło na różne grunty.

Dobry grunt to nasze serce. Po części jest to kwestia natury; ale przede wszystkim zależy od naszej woli. Są osoby, które wolą korzystać niż być lepszym. W nich spełnia się przypowieść: ciernie (to znaczy dotyczy troski doczesne i ułuda bogactwa) «zagłuszają słowo, tak że zostaje bezowocne.» (Mt 13,22)

Ale z kolei ci, którzy cenią być, przysparzają z miłością ziarno Boga i czynią owocnym. Nawet jeśli oznacza to umartwianie się. Chrystus zapowiedział: «Jeżeli ziarno pszenicy wpadłszy w ziemię nie obumrze, zostanie tylko samo, ale jeżeli obumrze, przynosi plon obfity.» (J 12,24)

Pan również ostrzegł nas, że droga do zbawienia jest wąska i ciasna (por. Mt 7,14): co jest dużo warte, dużo kosztuje. Nic co wartościowe nie przychodzi bez wysiłku.

Kto poddaje się swoim zachciankom będzie miał serce jak dzika dżungla. Natomiast drzewa owocowe, które się przycina dają lepsze owoce. I tak święci nie mieli łatwego życia, ale stali się przykładem dla ludzkości. «Nie wszyscy są powołani do męczeństwa, na pewno, ale do osiągnięcia doskonałości chrześcijańskiej. Ale cnota wymaga siły (...) wzywa do długiego i pracowitego dzieła, którego nie powinniśmy nigdy przerywać, aż do śmierci. Tak że można określić to jako powolne i stałe męczeństwo.» (Pius XII) Evangelii.net

Discusses the origin of death,
what it means for the human person,
and how Christ defeated through His death and resurrection.

Episode 2: The Afterlife:

Explores what awaits us after death,
breaking down heaven, hell,
purgatory, and particular judgment.

Episode 3: The Hour of Our Death:

Focuses on the spiritual and practical preparations for end-of-life,
the sacraments,
and navigating the dying process as a Christian.

Episode 4: The Faithful Departed:

Looks at how the living can care for the body and soul of the deceased through grief, funerals, and prayer.

Today's First Reading

Isaiah 55:10-11

Refection by: Deacon Ivan Toro

God's word is never empty. Just as rain and snow come down from heaven and make the earth fertile and fruitful, the Lord assures us that His word accomplishes exactly what He intends. Even when we cannot see it, God is quietly at work — watering the soil of our hearts, planting seeds of grace, and bringing forth good fruit in His time.

This reading gives us deep hope: God never stops sending down His blessings. He provides what is truly good for us, and His word always bears fruit in the lives of those who receive it with trust.

St. Augustine's Confessions

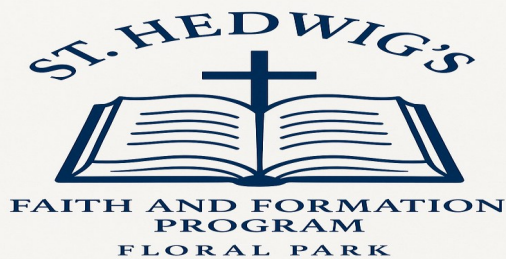

This week we invite you to rediscover the beauty of conversion through St. Augustine's Confessions.

In these timeless pages, Augustine opens his heart to God with honesty, longing, and hope—offering a spiritual companion for anyone seeking deeper faith.

The goal of participation in this program is to prepare oneself, as practicing Catholics, to receive the sacraments. Being Catholic is a lifelong endeavor and involves much more than receiving a select number of sacraments. It is a process that continues through one's life and ideally should reflect in one's daily life. Please come and join us.

We look for Volunteer Religious Catechists or Assistant Catechists in our church. Please call for more info to Director of Religious Education
